

JOIN THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

The American Registry for Internet Numbers (ARIN) is seeking leaders from across the region to serve on its Board of Trustees.

Why ARIN Matters

As one of five Regional Internet Registries (RIRs), ARIN plays a critical role in supporting the operation and stability of the global Internet. The ARIN region includes Canada, the United States, and parts of the Caribbean and North Atlantic. Its mission is to manage the distribution of Internet number resources — IPv4, IPv6, and Autonomous System Numbers — ensuring responsible, equitable, and technically sound administration.

ARIN also plays an important role in Internet governance, facilitating open, community-driven policy development, engaging with governments and regulators, and supporting capacity building across its region.

The Role of the Board of Trustees

The ARIN Board of Trustees provides strategic direction, fiduciary oversight, and organizational governance of ARIN. Board members work to ensure the organization remains aligned with the interests of the Internet community it serves.

The continued reliability, resilience, and openness of the Internet depends on institutions like ARIN maintaining transparency, accountability, and technical excellence. Board members bring high-impact, mission-driven experience to ensure ARIN serves not only as a registry but as a steward and advocate for the Internet's future.

Candidate Qualifications

- Professional excellence in technology, public policy, finance, legal or nonprofit sectors
- Strategic governance insight and corporate-level decision making experience
- Ethical integrity and accountability
- Awareness of the Internet ecosystem
- Regional diversity to reflect the needs of the broader ARIN community
- Commitment to open-minded collaboration to maintain responsible Internet stewardship

Benefits of Service

- Shape strategic Internet governance
- Provide high-impact leadership globally
- Expand your professional network at the highest policy level
- Contribute to innovation and infrastructure stewardship
- Promote transparent ARIN decision making

Learn More

arin.net/elections

Visit ARIN's Election Headquarters for information on the nomination and election processes, or email elections@arin.net with any questions.

Published June 2025
© 2025 ARIN. All Rights Reserved.