John & Vint,

I write to you to request that ARIN consider funding the Cryptech project (https://cryptech.is). The cryptech project is trying to shore-up security on the Internet by building an open hardware security module (HSM). One of the design use-cases is of course DNSSEC.

Leif Johansson, Russ Housley and I are trying to ensure that we can raise enough funds for the project to get to a live beta stage.

Open to respond to any questions you may have.

Regards,
Ram
ps: Afilias just announced its support for the project, although our funding for the project commenced last year.
